EXPLANATION TO New E-TEST REPORT.

The updated e-Test Report has now been published. Please read these notes to understand the changes.

1. As required by the Chief Inspector of the Department of Labour, the test report must contain at least the requirements contained in amendment 8 of SANS 10142-1.
2. The ECBSA e-test report contains all the requirements of amendment 8 and more.
3. The additional requirements are the shaded items in column 1. They have been included at the request of many of you, the registered person, as assistance to allow space to record the requirements contained in SANS 10142-1. The shaded items are therefore not mandatory but optional and for your own convenience.
4. A new requirement of SANS 10142-1 is that all sub-distribution board details must be entered individually onto the test report.
5. In order to access the sub boards the "drop down" for the main board is a mandatory field and must be completed.
6. Page 2 of the test report makes provision for the main board and three sub-boards. If more than three sub-boards are required additional page 2 and 3 can be accessed from the website on the same page as where the test report was originally downloaded.
7. To select the type of installation i.e. existing/ new/ temporary/ altered, click on the arrow on the right of the box above the distribution board designation and make your selection.
8. If you have any problems or further suggestions to enhance this new report please feel free to email them to support@ecbsa.co.za.
